

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. I can tell you in a word what the Indiana Telephone Privacy Law means to me: peace. Just because I own a phone doesn't give every business the right to solicit me. Indiana's law is fair and it's optional for consumers. Since when did the phone become a center for commerce? Look at the numbers and response from the people that have chosen to be on the "no-call" list - satisfaction! Please leave our law the way it is. Thank you.
